The Lalu is set on the mystical Sun Moon Lake where lush green mountains and aquamarine waters come together. Once the favorite summer getaway of President Chiang Kai Shek, the hotel dates back to 1901. Recent renovations and additions by Terry Hill Architects have resurrected the property to an new international level - a first for this part of the world. The Lalu invites guests to experience an all-suite lifestyle complete, including seven private villas with individual swimming pools, courtyards and pavilions. Comprised by five restaurants and bars serving western and Asian delicacies. The Lalu is a place to relax and enjoy. The hotel's spa comes with an extensive range of organic treatments. A 60-metre swimming pool and a well-equipped gym are also available. The surrounding region offers authentic cultural exhibits, festivals and events in a unique natural environment. Visit the temples, gardens and pagodas, and experience the beauty of Sun Moon Lake.

The Lalu is a sleek architectural treat in one of Taiwan's most scenic locations, overlooking mystical Sun Moon Lake, the largest freshwater lake in Taiwan. Fanned by Jade-green mountains, the Lalu is considered by many

For a five-star experience alongside the crystal waters of the Gulf of Oman, look no further than The Chedi Muscat, one of the best Oman resort escapes. A short drive from the international airport, this Muscat luxury hotel offers 156 rooms and suites, two swimming pools, a water garden and a stretch of private, sandy shore. Most rooms have scenic views of the Gulf or surrounding mountains. For king-size beds and BOSE sound systems, choose a Deluxe room, or upgrade to a Deluxe Club Room. Club Suites look out over trandquil ponds or landscaped grounds and open-plan bathrooms have rainshowers.

For authentic Arabian cuisine, head to The Arabian Court, with traditional water pipes. The Restaurant offers Mediterranean, Asian, Indian and Arab fare while The Beach Restaurant serves seafood.

Rooms & Suites: 04

There are hotels that you score for design, hotels that are ideal for location, hotels that you're drawn to for the experience they impart. And then there's the re-wrapped treasure called Chedi Chiang Mai - it weaves together the best of all three in this masterpiece of elegant simplicity tucked along the quiet shores of the Ping River, every inch makes a statement, and every turn spills a perfectly framed view; less becomes more and photos can't capture the full effect. A former British consulate, the elegants were once housed in what today is the lobby ... the hotel that's a few minutes walk from the Chiang Mai's famous night bazaar faces a main artery of trees, where the lights and the hawkers that are part of the nocturnal charm, yet only a few steps inside the Chedi, that world disappears and one drifts into a calming, restorative atmosphere. Maybe it's the design or the drift minimalist decor and that trimmings have a medicinal tranquilizing effect. Maybe it's the service or the drift service that greets you with cool towels, perhaps its the artfully-arranged food or the lemon grass drinks, but the
